THE SINGING REVOLUTION

A Single Nation. A Million Voices. An Unstoppable Dream.

How song and non-violent protest brought freedom for millions of people subjugated by the Soviet Union.

Cincinnati World Cinema presents three screenings of THE SINGING REVOLUTION at 7 pm on Tuesday June 24, Wednesday June 25 and Thursday June 26 at the Cincinnati Art Museum.

Cincinnati has the esteemed May Festival and annual renditions of Handel's Messiah, but we've never experienced the incredible sight and sound of 30,000 people singing in harmony at the Laulupidu Music Festival in Estonia.

The tiny Baltic state of Estonia, two-thirds the size of West Virginia with a population half that of Metro Cincinnati, has shown that non-violent protest and revolution, through song, could result in their freedom from oppression by the Soviet Union – a true David-and-Goliath story.

This moving documentary is about courage, both on the individual and collective level, and what a million people can accomplish when they act as one. This is the true story of how culture, and an art form, saved a nation. And while music provides stirring dramatic and illustrative content, THE SINGING REVOLUTION offers some amazing archival footage and interviews with the people who actually lived the story.

Tuesday June 24, Wednesday June 25 and Thursday June 26, at 7:00 pm

Cincinnati Art Museum, 953 Eden Park Drive,
Mt. Adams, Cincinnati OH 45202
